> More about LAM

LAM: a story born more than 40 years ago. Thanks to passion and tenacity and passion LAM is in continuous growth and evolution and, starting from a handful of collaborators it arrived to integrate 50 units. After 40 years Lugli Amedeo Meccanica becomes LAM Srl, a leader in milling and turning processings. It also added the grinding department. Thanks to its cutting-edge equipment, efficient organisation and the high level of specialisation of its workers and technical personnel, the Company obtained the UNI EN ISO 9001:2015 certification and was able to establish itself as a leader in the production of integrated components for the most complex industrial productions. In the end of 2021 LAM also obtained the EN9100:2018 dedicated to the aerospace sector. Through our structure, our expertise and our compromise with the customer, to achieve a high quality standard in terms of speed, elasticity and quality in the precision of the machining performed. We plan to achieve our targets through a constant updating of our workforce and the drive to constantly improve our performance in terms of production and customer support.
