

Agile Lab

> More about Agile Lab

Agile Lab is an Italian R&D company focused on the development of Big Data and artificial intelligence applications. They realize advanced software systems for all the companies that want to generate real value from their data even if “big” or “small” and improve their core processes with an innovative and agile approach. They have developed a strong experience and a deeper understanding of the real Big Data environments mostly in several companies that allowed them to have wide-open thinking and to offer ideas, new methodologies, and technology approaches to cross-sector customers.

Agile Lab mainly operates in the aerospace, automotive, cleantech, smart manufacturing, and health & wellness.
