> More about TECNOSTAMP

Tecnostamp is an Italian company of plastic injection molding founded in 1963 as a mechanical company for the manufacturing molds.

Tecnostamp was founded in 1963 as a mechanical company for the manufacturing of molds, but over the years the company has specialized in the plastic injection molding and recently in the construction of prototypes.

Our team is composed of professionals with many years of experience and specialized young people who have brought to the company innovative ideas to face the challenges of a changing market.

We are known for our professionalism, quality, and flexibility, and for our great ability to produce complex items. We offer our clients value-added services, and we can design, produce and assemble all of our products and related components.

TECNOSTAMP

The monitoring of the molding process is continuous, to guarantee the delivery of the product to the customer with the highest quality level. To this end, in 2018 Tecnostamp confirmed the quality certification UNI-EN ISO 9001: 2015.

The Plus of the company is the speed and flexibility in the answers to both commercial and technical questions; in the delivery of orders; in adapting and modifying production when they undergo sudden variations with a tailor-made approach according to the Customer's supply and logistics needs, guaranteeing maximum production reactivity. All this thanks to an entrepreneurial vision that follows the model of "lean production", that is, aiming at production simplification through the flexibility and involvement of all company functions in the design and production phases.
