> More about Raum Engineering Srl

Raum Engineering believes that the development of a project is essential to know all the phases of the process in which design plays a fundamental role in building a piece of the world around us.

We support our customers in the complex processes of transformation and urban regeneration under development.

We operate on articulated interventions that are rapidly changing the urban landscape, both at the local, urban and territorial scale.

The assumption of the strategic decision to promote an investment property, also in order to diversification of the characteristic activities, must be structured on a careful analysis of the characteristics and potential of the assets of interest.
