> More about EPCR INARCO SRL

EPCR INARCO S.r.l., headquartered in Turin with a presence in Piedmont and Milan, is a multidisciplinary architecture and engineering firm born in 2019 through the merger of EPCR and INARCO. Highly certified (ISO 9001:2015), the studio offers integrated design services—including feasibility studies, architectural and urban planning, project and site management, technical engineering, and due diligence—tailored to residential, commercial, industrial, and public-sector projects. Serving as a central interface for clients and multidisciplinary teams, they combine internal expertise with a network of trusted collaborators to deliver technical excellence and regulatory compliance.

With a portfolio spanning high-profile public and private clients—including collaborations with Renzo Piano Building Workshop on the Lingotto complex and various municipal infrastructure and cultural projects—EPCR INARCO emphasizes design rooted in context, sustainability, and innovation. Utilizing advanced digital tools from CAD and BIM to integrated project workflows, the studio brings architectural vision and technical rigor together to deliver efficient, environmentally-conscious, and context-sensitive solutions across Italy and beyond
