> More about SYNTHESIS DESIGN

We are a design company that has been operating for over 30 years on the conception and innovation of the product, on the design strategies and on the corporate image.

More than 350 projects developed, always dedicated to product and process innovation. Ours aim is to provide support to the creation of new products that contribute to the success of companies, using and enhancing existing technologies and materials used in their production process, through an alternative and often innovative way-of-doing approach, thanks to "cross-fertilization" methods. The acquired experience in many different production's fields is an integrative part of our cultural, style and design patrimony.

SYNTHESIS DESIGN mainly operates in the industrial design and automotive fields.
