> More about C.I.P. S.p.A.

Since 1963 CIP has been designing, fabricating and supplying custom components, such as elements of locomotive and passenger cars, bogie axle structures and maintenance of way and rail handling systems. The company works using high-strength steel for Equipment Manufacturers in Europe and North America. We help companies manufacture equipment that is exceptionally strong and lightweight. We fabricate and supply components based on the customer's need and provide expert design for manufacturing through our longtime engineering partners.
