> More about BOTTO RICAMBI S.r.l.

Located in Pratiglione (TURIN – ITALY) BOTTO RICAMBI S.r.l. is now a well-established company spread over a covered area of 3000 square metres. The modern industrial property houses the assembly and mounting department, technical and experimental area, administrative headquarters and warehouse.

Component production activities are now mainly outsourced with certified partner companies located in the province of Turin and elsewhere (OLPI group). These companies operate under the directives and constant monitoring of BOTTO RICAMBI technicians and designers.

The widespread distribution network completes the organisational profile of the company, which today is more than ever projected into a new phase of development on the global market.
