> More about LAMEBO

Lamebo is the main Italian producer of splitting band knives.

The splitting band knives are produced for use in different sectors of the leather industry: tanneries, shoe and leather manufacturing & saddlery. Also, in other sectors involving cutting: cork factories, foam materials, leather, skins, textiles, rubber, fur, paper, velvet, non-woven fabric.

Lamebo produces all kinds of splitting band knives, of any size that can be used in any sector and on any splitting machines, based on your requirements for length (from 1000 to over 15000 mm), width (from 3 to 120 mm) and thickness (from 0.40 to 1.50 mm). We have a full stock of all the combinations of thicknesses and widths of raw materials which means we are able to create any kind of splitting bandknife & industrial blades.
