> More about STC

STC is an engineering consulting firm, boasting customers among the most important automotive makers, in Europe and in North America. Continuous innovation, enthusiasm and improvement are the most important keywords for the Company.

STC divides its activities into three main competence areas:

Product Development and Optimization: dedicated to evaluate, optimize and improve product performances and cost by some well-established tools;

Product Design: aims at developing the best solutions in terms of Performance, Quality and Cost from concept to production phase;

Quality and Methods: supports, gives guidance and assess Product Lifecycle to reach Quality and Customer Satisfaction;

Ever since, STC had dedicated a substantial portion of its revenues to education, research and development, because continuous development in design, cost engineering and supporting methods is an everyday task for STC.

STC mainly operates in the automotive and smart manufacturing fields.
