

MAFALDA INDUSTRIES

> More about MAFALDA INDUSTRIES

Mafalda is a privately owned young and innovative company, located near Turin and covering three plants. Since 1970, Mafalda has been producing precision mechanical components, developing an important experience in the following fields: railway, automotive and industry in general.

Looking for the best available technology, Mafalda is continuously involved in keeping up-to-date its machine tools equipment and in the constant improvement. The company is able to machine different materials as for example steel, stainless steel, cast iron, spheroidal cast iron with dimensions from few centimeters up to the biggest in the market (1 or 2 meters wide).

Mafalda can cover a wide volume range: from 1pc/year (in the case of big dimensions for industry) up to several hundred, thousands/year.

Mafalda's peculiarity to work on the development of new innovative technologies has finally found its way into the newborn Innovation Development Center, a nationally renowned Technology Park, where a number of accredited companies will focus their efforts on developing new technologies.
