> More about SIMTA

Since 1949 Simta has been valuing the legacy of Italian textile traditions, nurturing the creative passion for conceiving and developing exclusive textile collections. Today Simta is synonym for style, elegance and creativity, becoming one of the main Italian textile editors.

Simta offers a wide range of fabrics, covering every need of interior. The collections are skilfully conceived by our design department, combining its long experience with the latest technical innovations, in order to offer prestigious products and to promote Made in Italy worldwide. The contents of the collections range from classic to contemporary taste, from tradition to vanguard, meeting the trends of the international markets.

The main activity is the cut length service and the large availability of fabrics in stock allows to guarantee punctual delivery times. For large volume orders, specially-made productions are planned. Simta also provides stylistic counselling and sales assistance, by advising its customers on the best type of fabrics for their projects or planning custom-made productions for their specific needs.
