> More about CARLO BARBERIS

Founded in 1929 by Carlo and nowadays run by the third generation of the family represented by Francesco and Maria, Carlo Barberis is one of the Italian companies enjoying the longest and most consolidated tradition in jewelry craftsmanship.

Throughout its quite long story - the company will be soon celebrating its 90th anniversary - it has always nourished its distinctive characteristic of "atelier".

The special care devoted to design and creativity along with the high degree of craftsmanship, make its jewels immediately recognizable for a delicate touch of stylish elegance, according to the purest Italian tradition.

Besides a number of different collections under the brand name, exclusive, custom-made designs and unique pieces are also available upon request world-wide.
