> More about STUDIO FFWD architettura

FFWD architettura is a consulting office based in Italy offering architecture and design services internationally. Our clients are developers and public institutions operating in the tourism real estate, commercial, residential and infrastructure sectors.

The office carries out every project from conceptual to executive phases, including definition of details and finishing materials, and the implementation of Italian product design. Our projects are designed with care and attention to environmental aspect for users' safety and well-being. We are specialized in the design of prefabricated wooden buildings, today one of the best solutions in sustainable architecture.

The relationship with the clients is essential for us: this means listening and understanding their needs and requirements to translate them into a project that combines innovation, comfort, high technological and sustainability standards. The main activities of the office are planning and renovation of contemporary villas, residential and mixed use buildings, hotels, schools, industrial buildings and refurbishment of heritage buildings.
