> More about Poletti Rubinetteria

Poletti Rubinetteria was founded in 1968 with the production of faucets items for bigger brands; thanks to the business experience and strength of its workers the company has evolved and improved, creating a wide range of distribution of well finished and packed items.

The entire creation process of products is inside the company from design, cleaning and testing cycles, to assure customers a high and safe quality product. Strengths of it is the fact of being one of the few companies on this field able to follow the entire process of creation of its products, starting from brass.

Poletti Rubinetteria has set its presence among internal as well as international marketplace. A Company philosophy based on firm criteria of passion and professionalism, has taken Poletti Rubinetteria to be part of the top-quality Italian faucet producers.
