> More about QUAGLIOTTI

Quagliotti is a fourth generation family business, we weave the finest Italian textiles and we make bed, table and bath linens from our workshop in Piedmont, Italy.

We are also known for prestigious hospitality collaborations with hotels and restaurants all over the world. For 90 years we have united expertise, passion, place and people in our products and since 1993, we have been designing unique solutions for hospitality, contract and trade projects of all sizes.

Our design process is unique - we explore solutions, with the client and team giving ample opportunity to refine and customize.

Our production chain is largely vertical, with many aspects taking place under the Quagliotti roof in Chieri, Torino, Italy. As in all things, the ingredients matter.

We begin with the finest double twisted cotton or linen yarns, alone or blended, or with cashmere yarns. Fabrics are then woven on our own looms, underscoring our expertise in plain, jacquard, yarn-dyed and piece-dyed linens.

We then fashion and finish our linens to meet the most sophisticated requests. This process gives us full control on the quality of all our creations while allowing for a high level of customization for our clients.

Quagliotti stands out among the few Italian companies who weave and fully produce their bed, bath and table linens in Italy. Using the finest materials we blend the techniques of the past which are preserved and developed with modern innovations.

Since the beginning we have been committed to respecting the environment, supporting the values that work together to safeguard people, work, land, and our natural resources.

We are deeply bound to our sense of place with a focus on quality and the protection of our region and we are committed to a rigorous path that is linked to the principles of sustainability.

We strive to continually improve the impact of our production and the supply chain in which we operate. Quagliotti, is also a proud founding member of Slow Fiber, where we've joined other companies in the textile supply chain to express and promote positive change in the industry through a sustainable production process, aimed at creating beautiful, healthy, clean, fair and durable products respecting the dignity and delicate balance of man and nature.
