> More about FERRARIS GIOIELLI

After having learned the art craft of goldsmith with passion, Giovanni Ferraris decided to dedicate himself to the development and production of his ideas, therefore in 1985 he founded his own company. At the beginning Giovanni Ferraris got specialized in the production of jewel watches, an activity which requires very high technical skills, afterwards he shifted his abilities to the jewellery. The continuous investment in the experimentation and in the research and innovation, together with an excellent professionalism at all levels of the line, allow him to pay an extreme attention to the slightest details Giovanni Ferraris is still convinced that having a complete internal production allows to find always new solutions and an accurate follow-up in order to maintain the high-quality level of the "made in Italy" and offering an excellent pre and post-sale service, even the most demanding customer can only acknowledge the high value of the Giovanni Ferraris jewellery and watches.
