> More about BRONDELLO ERMINIO

Brondello Erminio has been dealing with wood for more than 50 years. Over the years we have specialized in solid wood, reclaimed wood and reclaimed wood floors.

We have refined the production and treatment techniques, making the wooden material a precious distinctive point of houses, apartments, commercial activities.

We did it respecting nature and wood, our faithful ally.

We have created great works, such as Eataly Munich, Green Pea of Turin, but also houses in Portofino or mountain huts like Chamonix and Courmayeur.

We have been called for our absolute respect to wood to create the "Club 55" beach on Saint Tropez.

The recovery of the old wood and of wood already used in the past, the processing of the botanical cultivars of our regions is the basis of our company philosophy.

Preserving the forest heritage and limiting the felling of trees, using recovered wood and wood from trees whose forestry has come to maturity, is our creed.

Leaving a world of trees to the new generations by focusing on recycling, through the reconditioning, cleaning and boiling of old wood, is our way of helping environmental sustainability, creating an exclusive process capable of making old wood suitable for modern environments.

Our studies in botany and dendrochronology, together with the investments that our company has made in the drying of wooden materials, has led us to create a conditioning process for all the wood, in order to adapt and stabilize it for the place where it will be used or installed.
