> More about ADEGLAS

A beautiful story, spanning two generations, two visions, two ways of being. Father and son united in a family business that continues to grow but remains firmly rooted in Turin, city of great industrial tradition, always open to new stimuli coming from the world of art, culture and design.

We analyze, study and implement solutions for interior design, retail, architecture, industry and craftsmanship. We operate on two production sites both in Turin area.

We have always been design oriented, so much to enter in the top 20 independent Italian design companies, year 2014. In our approach the search for beauty joins the strive for innovation and of course functionality. You can count on the inventiveness and on the experience of our designers.

ADEGLAS

We were born artisans and we have maintained the manual know how but we have joined it with the organization and industrial operations: a business model that proves the effective answer to many and diversified market needs. For us people come first, before the machinery: our staff is specialized and perfectly trained through programs periodically updated. The different generations collaborate through one ideal exchange, made of knowledge and experience, with the sole target of achieving excellent products.

In the heart of our products, since 1974, the Made in Italy assurance. A solid mix of accurate craftsmanship, industrial reliability and creative originality.
