> More about Risolviamo

Risolviamo is a professional company operating successfully in the information technology sector. We work with international events, festivals, and fairs to provide the appropriate computing tools that improve participants' experience and support the backend.

b.square is the Risolviamo solution for managing your Film Festival Industry program of one-to-one meetings and creating a ready-to-use calendar of educational conferences and roundtables. Meeting management can simplify organizers' work for curated and open market events.

The platform has minimal impact on the client's technical structure because it easily integrates with any Film Festival Management Systems via APIs and is already compatible with Cinando, Eventival, Starbase, and various other private Single Sign-on systems.
