> More about NUBILARIA

Nubilaria Srl provides IT services to the Clinical Research market through its dedicated ACTide Platform. ACTide eCRF is a web-based EDC (Electronic Data Capture) platform dedicated to MedTech, Clinical and Epidemiological Research Management, allowing the collection, recording, transmission, and storage of the data acquired during a clinical trial. Along with the ACTide solution, Nubilaria provides top-level services to the Clinical Research Market:

- data management
- database migrations
- custom developments
- software integrations

Its technical DNA along with its commitment to innovation makes Nubilaria the perfect partner for the most challenging projects.
