> More about Alps Studios

Alps Studios is a Visual Effects Studio based in Turin, Italy. We focus on providing high quality digital effects for feature films, TV series, commercials and music videos. We provide services from pre-production to on-set supervision and post-production. Being involved in the pre-production phase of a project, through concepts and previs, helps streamline the shooting process. We believe that on-set supervision is essential to achieving the highest standards in visual effects. For post-production we use innovative workflows and pipeline and constantly research new technologies and software to optimise the final result. Our goal is to create images that astonish and entertain. We have done our job well when the audience is oblivious to the fact that what they are seeing is not a simple video shooting, but a re-elaboration of it, made with the most innovative techniques.
