> More about ONDA THERM SRL

ONDA THERM is a manufacturer of plastic manifolds for under floor heating and geothermal systems; it's located in the Italian manufacturing heartland.

In Valduggia's plant there are all the manifolds assembling lines, the commercial and technical offices.

All the projects that come from us or from our customers are implemented internally in our technical department taking the requirements of the individual plastic material into account; all the required injection moulds are manufactured in our own mould making division.

We manufacture all the technical plastic parts on our 17 injection moulding machines
