> More about Emisfera

Emisfera Società Cooperativa is made up of professionals who daily choose to invest in collaboration and training believing that the continuous professional growth of the group is the winning key to be protagonists in a constantly evolving market.

We strongly believe in our home territory and, while operating in an international context, we collaborate with local institutions to encourage employment and the birth of new business activities.

We work daily to improve our internal processes by investing in training and research, with the aim of being an ethically correct company capable of providing quality products and services at the best market conditions. We are looking for a better society where the new generations have space: we do all this by developing software and integrating hardware.
