

SEQUAR

> More about SEQUAR

Sequar (former Libellula) is a company that was born from a long path of constant development and growth that began over 25 years ago as S.I. Engineering and evolved, with the next official transformation out of social reasons, in Libellula, the brand from 2010 signing all software and now known by customers and experts.

Besides Italy, it is now present, with direct subsidiaries or local distributors, in France, Germany, Spain, Denmark, Poland, Russia, Romania, Bulgaria, China, Iran, and Israel.

Over 13,000 customers worldwide. Consolidated partnership with leaders in aerospace, automotive, marine and medical industry, and the largest machine tools manufacturers with subsidiaries throughout the world.

Our mission is creating effective and intuitive software, always technologically advanced and the true gold standard of the whole class, constantly anticipating the needs of our customers.
