> More about Progetti Srl

PROGETTI was founded in 1990 to introduce new technological solutions to the cardiovascular and hypertension market and to the emergency, gynecology and veterinary markets with products imported from major foreign manufacturers.

In 1999 PROGETTI acquired the Elpro manufacturing company and started to design and manufacture its products by itself. The new ECG line became the company core business.

In 2005 PROGETTI developed the first Italian biphasic defibrillator. From 2009 Progetti has expanded its range to other medical products used in emergency and in hospital fields: patient monitors, infusion pumps and syringes, ventilators and much more...

In 2010 we have launched the Rescue Life, professional manual and semi-automatic defibrillator that has increased our competitiveness on a global scale thanks to its complete performances.

Progetti Srl

In 2011 we introduce the new AED: Rescue Sam, external semi-automatic defibrillator easy to use in every situation, in private/public places like theatres, offices, cinemas, gyms and many more.

In 2015 we launched the ISP project, International Service Point that provides Technical Assistance in different countries.

In 2016 our presence on Social Media grew up from our Website and Facebook and Twitter and other social networks.

Today, thanks to our 30 young and expert collaborators and to the 70% turnover shared in 75 different countries, PROGETTI is recognized as an Italian Excellence and as one of the major international playmakers of medical sector.
