> More about DUCOTEX

DUCOTEX is a leading company in production and distribution of high quality clothing fabrics for both women and men, in the name of made in Italy, having the makings of being a benchmark for wholesalers, manufacturers and retail clients at an international level.

The attention for details put in every phase of our production and in the final output is meticulous because it's the basis of our company culture. Starting from the accurate selection of the high quality raw materials from Australia, New Zeland and Mongolia, together with the effort of our qualified styling department which studies the new trends, we are able to offer fabrics with an optimal composition and quality to our demanding clients who love made in Italy products.

Our purpose is to diffuse "ready to go" as we own several articles for prompt delivery in our warehouse.

We offer, together with traditional woolshed and drapery, which are our signature sign, shirting for men, cottons, velvets, plain and printed silks, jacquards, jerseys and a particular collection for military uniforms, civilians and clerical clothing.

DUCOTEX

The production of our fabrics is realized with machines of the latest generation and productive process which allow us to obtain high quality products.

DUCOTEX, founded in 1986, is a young reality in continuous development which invests in research of avant-garde qualities without forgetting the ancient dictates of Biella's textile culture, famous all over the world for its tradition, technology and innovation.
