> More about LSM WALLCOVERING

Originally established in 2008 as La Scala Milano Wallcovering, Artmura is a family-owned business based in Italy that designs and creates contemporary handcrafted wallcoverings.

Specializing in decorative relief art, our unique style features a blend of geometric shapes and textures, complemented with a careful selection of colors and effects.

We are committed to conducting continuous materials research and developing new production techniques, which allows us to offer a variety of customization options. All of our collections can be customized for color, effect, and pattern, and we are open to collaborating to develop new designs.

Our commitment to sustainability is reflected in our use of only natural raw materials and water-based colors, as well as in our eco-friendly production processes.
